

To whom it may concern,

I am writing in recommending Laura Anderson to you as a prospective employee. Laura took the role as the Marketing and content creation Intern of Flip K.K in the summer. During the 3 months period that she was working at Flip K.K, she was in charge of a wide range of tasks from research, graphic design, videography, editor, content creation and social media marketing.

Laura performed extensive market research for various clients, influencers and projects in multiple industries, providing thorough and extensive analysis and reports. She was also helping with connecting with the clients and talents that we work with, managing the relationships and dealing with the jobs and tasks that we had from small to big.

Not just with research and relationship management, Laura was able to utilise her skills in content creation, such as videography, video editing, graphic design, web design, and blog writing. Laura has a unique artistic eye and during the time that she spent with us, she created videos, character design, managed various social media channels, developed various campaigns and assisted in creating content for multiple events.

Laura pays extensive attention to details and was extremely organised with her tasks, assignments and reports. She was able to attend the formal situations professionally and appropriately, representing the company in a proper manner. She was very capable and self-motivated, working hard from the beginning to the very end. From research to execution, Laura was able to perform all the tasks punctually and effectively.

Laura is a bright, enthusiastic, attentive and motivated lady and in the short 3 months that we had Laura working with us, it was wonderful. She did nothing but contribute to our company and I would highly recommend you to hire Laura as an intern for your company.

Best regards,

Venese
